Pentecost

May 2024

In the last couple of years at the chapel, we have needed to arrange for building contractors, heating engineers, electricians, an architect and others to come and quote for work. I am in the habit of telling such people that the chapel is a small, grey, rather ugly-looking building on the high street, opposite the Victoria Sandwich shop.

One building contractor said that he drives past the chapel every day on his way to work and had never imagined what it was like inside, nor that it has such a lovely garden at the back with a beautiful tree and a great view over the fields. Despite its age and the greyness of its exterior, it is a building with a bright and vibrant heart because of the community of faith and kindness that keeps it going.

A pair of crows, birds that mate for life, seem to love our chapel – they come back every year to raise a new family in a convenient opening above the front door, discarding old twigs and straw from the previous year so that we have sometimes put up a notice to warn people about items falling “from above”. We never see the baby crows as they are too well hidden, “fuzzy, black-beaked fruit, they were miracles we did not think to treasure”. That line about baby crows comes from a poem called “How prayer works” by an Iranian-American poet, Kaveh Akbar. It made me think about how easy it is to fail to appreciate the miraculous.

How often do we fail to appreciate people, places and things because they appear unimpressive on the outside? May we open our eyes and hearts to the treasures that are close to us. Such appreciation may well be a form of prayer.

News from St Bartholomew's

"Spring is sprung, the flowers is riz, I wonder where the birdies is?"

There is mixed news about the churchyard this spring: we have our usual display of wild primroses, which gladden the heart, and the bluebells I planted a couple of years ago are now making a bit of a show, but our box and yew have been attacked by a pernicious caterpillar, we think . They are looking VERY sad. One notable casualty is the Millenium Yew, planted 24 years ago and until now, happily getting on with the job. Most of the suggested ways to treat this problem are impractical on such a large scale (pick off the caterpillars by hand) or expensive and ecologically undesirable (spraying with chemicals) so I am going to investigate the idea of pheromone traps. Also, lemon scented washing up liquid, diluted and sprayed on is worth a try, apparently. Sadly, Guy Barter, Chief Horticulturist from the Royal Horticultural Society (RHS), said how in 2017 the insects were named the top pest in their annual top ten plant pests and diseases rankings and recommended choosing replacement plants that look similar. If our trees and bushes ARE beyond saving I am considering Ilex crenata which is also known as the box-leaved holly. Any other suggestions would be welcome!

We say goodbye to another of our clergy team at the end of June:

Rev Peter is heading off into the sunset with wife Bridget to go and live by the seaside. (Sounds blissful!) His final service will be Sunday 30th June, so expect heartfelt thanks and cake! Come and wish him well in his lotus eating.

Sadly, though, that means a bit of a headache for Rev Elaine, as she has to find people to take services in all five churches and bafflingly, she can only be in one place at a time. (Not what we asked for when we were interviewing, but there...) So expect to see more lay led worship, and a group of people fervently praying for some retired ministers to move into the area.

"The birdies on the wing! Now, isn't that a funny thing - I always thought the wing was on the bird."

The Memory Café continues to meet at the village hall, 2.00–4.00 p.m. usually on the first Thursday of the month. In May, we will meet on Thursday 9th, owing to the local elections on the first Thursday. Our monthly get-together is free to attend and anyone with dementia or memory loss, with their family member or carer, is very welcome. Each month we see a few new faces as well as lots of familiar ones. Our activities in the next few months include container planting, a ukelele band and ballroom dancing. At each cafe we have delicious refreshments, kindly provided by local WI groups, and we enjoy a variety of craft activities, singing and games. We also have a wide range of resources and information. More details about the café are available on our Facebook page (The Memory Café at Doynton), by email (mcdoynton [at] gmail.com) or tel. 07817 311001.

The annual residents' meeting and annual meeting of Doynton Parish Council will take place on Tuesday May 28th, 7.00 p.m., at Doynton village hall, followed by a normal council meeting. All residents are welcome to attend.

Doynton Village Market: Saturdays May 4th and 18th, 10.00–11.00 a.m. in Doynton village hall. Come along for fresh veg, eggs, baked goods, preserves and home-made craft items, and stay for coffee! The first market in April was well attended, thank-you everyone who joined us. At this market we had an extra table with houseplants for sale in aid of Dorothy House Hospice. In some respects this was quite fortuitous, as at the AGM following the market we voted to support this charity as well as the Memory Café once again. A big hurrah, the second market of the month dawned cold but sunny, a very welcome start to the day, and as always a happy crowd of customers joined us. We look forward to seeing you at the market during May. After 30 years plus supporting and running the market, Elizabeth Crew is standing down as market coordinator, but she will still be with us helping out with the teas and coffees, and taking pre-orders (tel. 937 3168 by Wednesday morning before the market). With grateful thanks to her for keeping the market running over the years!

Doynton and Wick WI: Our WI celebrates its 100th birthday this year! Claire Dimond Mills has been sifting through the archives for stories, photographs and press reports from the early years. Some members recognised themselves in the (later!) photos and shared fond memories of Pearl Brookman and her poems and the garden parties hosted by Mrs Eileen Pitman at Doynton House.

At the meeting in May members will discuss this year's national resolution, on "dental health matters". The Going Down Memory Lane photo archive will be on display, and the competition is "a Spring flower arrangement". All welcome at Doynton village hall on Wednesday May 8th, 7.30 p.m. Doynton and Wick is hostess of the Doynton group of WIs this year, and the first group event will be on May 24th in Doynton – a "Mamma Mia!" evening with Greek meze and buffet and an opportunity to sing along to the film!

Avon and Somerset Police tell us that reported crime was low in the Doynton area. However, do continue to be aware of scams and take precautions with property security. Report anything out of the ordinary to Bianca Rotariu by phoning 101, quoting her badge no. 9061, or email 9061 [at] avonandsomerset.police.uk.

"Warm Wednesdays" community café: every Wednesday, 10.30 a.m.–12 noon in the village hall. All welcome for tea, coffee and good company! Catch up on the gossip here!

Doynton village fête As we have not been able to find enough volunteers to form a viable organizing committee, the decision has been taken to cancel the fête this year.

Please donate any packets or tins of food you can spare to the Doynton foodbank and North Bristol and South Glos foodbank in the church porch. Many families are still in great need.

Post Office in the village hall: every Thursday 9.30–10.30 a.m. for standard post office services. You can also withdraw cash, pay bills, pay in cheques and return mail-order purchases. Order groceries by 6.00 p.m. Wednesday for collection (Oldland Common Post Office and Store, tel. 932 3159).

Yoga: Thursday morning class 9.30–10.30 a.m. in the village hall. Suitable for everyone, safe and friendly. £10 per class. Classes are run by Jean Foley, Wild Heart Yoga. Tel. 07341 347547 or email jean72foley@gmail.com.

Women's Institute

During our April meeting members enjoyed a fascinating talk on "Tribes Around the World" presented by Guest Speaker Dr Riyam Mistry who spent several weeks during his medical training living with the Malayan Kelabit tribe in the remote Kelabit Highlands village of Bario. We were given an insight into their daily life, living alongside modern society whilst still maintaining their traditions. The Kelabits' are a close-knit community who live in communal longhouses, cultivate fruits, raise chickens, buffalo, sheep, cattle, and produce Bario rice from the wet paddy fields. We were shown how they hunt and gather fish and cook this over an open fire. Additionally, the Kelabit tribe value education and follow the Christian faith. Riyam provided an overview of the "contacted" and "non-contacted" tribes around the world and the devastating result of human contact with non-contacted tribes.

News from the URC Chapel

On Easter Sunday morning we held a service of praise led by our Companion Elder, Reverend Meryl White, and, as is our tradition, we decorated the empty Cross with flowers and lifted it high on the memorial outside the Chapel for all to see that Christ is Risen.

We held our AGM at the end of the morning service on 3rd March. Margaret Jones gave a detailed annual report of all that had happened during 2023, thanking our fellowship for its loyalty and support during 2023.

It is with great sadness that we said goodbye to Megan Williams in March. Her funeral service took place in her beloved Chapel on Wednesday 10th April. 60 years ago, Megan walked into our Chapel with three young children, and she soon became a huge part of our fellowship. She was Secretary, Sunday School teacher, Elder, Leader of Women's Guild and organizer of the annual World Day of Prayer. For many years Megan and Mel kept the fabric of the church up together. We will miss her friendship and guidance.

At last, the roof slates have been secured and the roof checked for any loose slates. We can thoroughly recommend Affordable Roofing who came on the day they promised, carried out the work on the same day in the rain! We now must repaint a section of the ceiling in the sanctuary, which is mouldy, due to the leak.

We are ever grateful to Len and Margaret Jones who look after the Chapel Garden. Please call in at any time and sit in the garden. It is peaceful and the view is lovely.

Now to the easily accessible toilet – work will start on 24th/25th April. We have been able to secure grants for half of the work but the rest we must fund ourselves. We will need to fundraise, and our first event will be a stall at the Car Boot Sale in Brockwell Park on 27th April. We are always grateful for the support of the community and would love to welcome you to any of our services.

With the end of the season fast approaching, and with just three games to go (at the time of writing), the first team still need a few more points before they can be sure that they are clear of the drop. They welcome Broadwell Amateurs from the Forest of Dean this Saturday (20th) and Almondsbury on Wednesday 24th. Both these teams are also fighting hard for survival, so all support will be more than welcome. With free entry and an inviting clubhouse, why not pay us a visit?

Still with plenty of games to squeeze into a very tight schedule, the A team are firmly in the mix for honours and promotion. They have nine games to play before the season deadline of the 11th May. Both the 'vets' and Wick Sunday are flying high and certain to be in the top two, if not champions. The Vets have clinched their league title without playing a game as LB Vets were unable to raise a team for the last game of the season. Their record speaks for itself, played nine, won eight, lost one, goals scored thirty five and only conceded four. They play their cup semi-final on Sun 28th April at Wick FC, KO 10:30am. Wick Sunday team have no league games remaining and are currently top of the league, however could be pipped to the title if Bristol Academia win their remaining games. They are also in the Bristol Premier Sunday Cup Final against Heritage Utd on Sunday 28th April, KO 10:30am at Bristol Manor Farm FC.

Spring and summer provide our volunteer team opportunities to undertake ground and building maintenance. Environment challenge for May 2024

Walking is good?

Thinking about the ways we travel; we are made to walk. Walk to the local shops, walk to see friends, to the doctors, to school, get a bus to Bath or Kingswood and walk for shopping, That's like walk for a reason. It's healthy and its cheaper than taking the car. Even faced by the hills (Naishcombe Hill, Sunny Bank, High Steet, Riding Barn Hill)- take the challenge and walk.

We are so fortunate in Wick to live just by many country footpaths, the park, the nature reserve and further afield the Cotswolds – opportunities for walking for pleasure.

I am a Cotswold Warden and can tell you about walking there, and the free guided walks. www.cotswoldsaonb.org.uk
The Parish Council have walks information on their website: https://www.wickabsonpcgov.uk/?page_id=1117

Set yourself a target to walk 30 minutes or an hour each day. Walking helps to improve our health and fitness; it helps with mental health- just focussing on walking and enjoying the countryside. It can be socially great if you walk with a friend.
